Dietria “Meco” Henderson was born May 3, 1972 to Shelly A. Henderson and the late George H. Williams III (Beaumont, Texas). She accepted Christ at a young age under the leadership of Reverend George V. Clark at Mt. Zion Missionary Baptist Church Austin, Texas. She later moved her membership to South Austin Community Church under the leadership of Bishop A. L. Sneed, II.

She was preceded in death by her father, George H. Williams III; her brother, Major Williams-Henderson; Grandmother, Josephine Hood Myles; and Great-Grandfather, Hollis Hood.

She graduated from LBJ High School where she developed great musical abilities as a 1st Chair Flute Player. She briefly attended Huston-Tillotson University. She graduated from Austin Community College with an Associate Degree in Criminal Justice and graduated from Texas State University with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Criminal Justice. These degrees lead her to employment with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice as a Parole Officer for nearly 16 years.

Dietria (also known as “Meco” by family and friends) was such an AWESOME woman with a great spirit and a smile that would lighten up the room. She exuded love, and always treated everyone fairly. Family was very important to Meco as her love for them was immeasurable, there were no limitations. Meco was an avid football fan; her dedication to the Dallas Cowboys never wavered. She was known to playfully tease all family members and friends who were not Dallas Cowboy fans with reminders of who America’s team is.

Meco leaves to cherish her memories, her mother, Shelly A. Henderson; special friend, Donald Green; Aunt Elder Gillis Branch; uncle, Rev. Robert Powell, Sr.; nieces: Desiree Williams-Henderson, Sherice Grant; nephew: Major Williams-Henderson, III; cousins: Ulrekka (Reka) Thomas, Kenneth Haywood, Jr., Clarence Dean Tomlin, Jr., Robert Powell, Jr., Derrick McClain, Destyneii Thomas, Paul Rossum,, Jr., and a host of other family members and longtime friends.
