her brother-in-law Norman Hicks, and also her son-in-law John W. Robinson.
 Florence's grandchildren nick named her "Grand". She loved it and became "Grand" to many relatives and family friends. At 34 years of age, Grand became the Head Musician at Goodwill Baptist Church where she remained a lifetime member. Sister Thymes retired from her position at age 40 years, but continued working the same by playing piano every Sunday until she was 70 years young. She played her last hymn on the piano at the request of Pastor Willie E. Caldwell on her 100th Birthday in 2012.
 Sister Thymes was one of the Head Musicians of the Region Federation of Choirs of Austin, a board member of M. W. Joseph Grand Lodge, Eastern Star, Life of the Valley, Chapter 147 and the annual Heritage Park Rehabilitation and Skilled Nursing Center for her falling health. She had also been an executive board member of the Annual Chapter, Lady The Lady Sorority, Inc.

“ A wonderful neighbor when I moved here in 2001. We talked every morning when she took her daily walk from her home to the Deaf School. Have missed her.
