“Frintha's presence lit up the world all around her and made the grumpiest of old men cheer up in an instant with her amazing smile and wonderfully upbeat attitude. A simple "hello" brightened up the darkest of days for so many. Upon walking into my life, she filled a void I didn't know I had and had made me feel less alone in a predominately unkind world. She was a strong woman, having been through so much, and still holding her head up high, and encouraging you to do the same. Her experiences and strength has helped many of us through hard times as she was always there to help, offer advice, or just a shoulder, regardless of the issues she might have been going through or how well she knew you. I do, and will forever, miss her dearly. I still see her face, her smile, and hear her laugh. It was always so contagious. I still imagine as if it were yesterday, all the memories we shared. The songs we'd jammed to will always remain her songs, to me, and she will forever remain in my heart. I'm glad you found peace, My Friend. We will always be thinking of you and are grateful to God for even the shortest amount of time we were blessed to have known you. No matter how long, it would have never been enough. You've made a huge and positive impact in the lives of every person you came in contact with.

I won't say "goodbye".... I will say, "See you later, My Friend." because you will never truly be gone.
