Obituary

Jeremy Durrand Davis was born November 17, 1986 in Chesterfield, MO to Clarence (Jin) Davis and the late Mary Elizabeth (Williams) Davis, he departed this earthly life on December 11, 2023 in Austin, TX surrounded by his family. Jeremy gave his life to Christ at the age of 18 on a youth trip with Lafayette Church of Christ.

At an early age Mary and Clarence realized Jeremy's full potential and made it their mission to ensure that he had the best environment and education to allow him to flourish and succeed. They enrolled Jeremy in MICDS to enhance his educational experience. After a few years of attendance, Jeremy's love for his friends and desire for a sense of community that matched his passion led him to return to Rockwood School District. During that time he was a scholar athlete at Marquette High School and continuing to excel which afforded him the opportunity to earn an academic scholarship to Truman State University where he also played football. Whenever anyone would talk about Jeremy's academic ability, everyone said, "he scored an 32 on his ACT with his eyes closed and never had to study as hard as we did." He was often referred to as the "smartest man I know". Completing a few years of college at both Truman and the University of Missouri, he ultimately decided to return to St. Louis to pursue his true passion-entrepreneurship. It was perfect timing as Jeremy was able to help mold and shape his nephew Rashon during his formidable years. Spending summers, evenings and weekends caring for him in his own special way; knee football, squats and many days giving him the tools to be the man he is today. Not only was he a phenomenal male influence in Rashon's life, he was blessed to care for Devin, Layla and Alyssa as young children. He often stepped in to get them ready for school, take them to games and events, and they will never forget the "quiet game". He was the epitome of the best uncle. He loved them with all of his heart and was always providing them with so much wisdom, guidance and tough love.

As he began to become ingrained in the fitness community in St. Louis, he made so many friends that became family, but the most pivotal time was at Club Fitness where he met the love of his life, Morgan. He was determined to make her "like" him. Not only did she like him, Jeremy and Morgan were married on August 5, 2017. Jeremy and Morgan's marriage flourished, only months later they made the decision to build upon their foundation, passion for fitness and Jeremy's entrepreneurial spirit, and move to Austin, TX in 2018 to open their own boutique gym, TruFusion, which is the most successful and profitable gym in the Trufusion franchise. Many times they would open the gym to those in need to shower and stay warm when Texas experienced weather that paralyzed the city. Over the years they grew so much and touched so many people in Austin as their TruFam came together. Jeremy never stopped trying to explore ways to expand his full potential, he joined his High School classmates and began to consult and open additional gyms in the Austin area in 2022. Having established a firm foundation, Jeremy and Morgan decided that it was time to grow this amazing family and they are expecting Jeremy's first and only daughter, Maia Roby Davis in May of 2024. Jeremy was loving, kind, generous, caring and most of all determined and purpose driven. Jeremy started each day with his list and white board, and, by any means, necessary everything and everyone would be taken care of before he closed his eyes to rest.

Jeremy was preceded in death by his mother, Mary Elizabeth Davis, Grandmothers, Mary Francis Williams, Leila Mae McFarland and Lucille Williams. He leaves to cherish his memory his wife, Morgan Davis (Callender), his father Clarence (Jincai) Davis, sister's Frances (Brandon) Davis-Williams, Ykama (John Wilson), his grandfather, Bartow Williams, Sr., his Father-in-Law and Mother-in-Law, Bruce and Robin Callendar, Brother-in-Law, Garrett (Leah) Callender, nephews, Rashon Davis, Devin Wilson and Ozzy Callender, nieces Layla and Alyssa Wilson and Chayse Williams and his loving favorite fur babies, LuLu and Leo. He will not only be missed by a host of aunts, uncles and cousins, Jeremy's heart was so full of love that he has far too many friends, family colleagues and other acquaintances to mention.

“ My wife and I grew up in the same part of St. Louis, MO. I was older than Jeremy but he was my brothers age and I went to school with his sister Frances. We've all stayed in touch with each other over the years and rooted for each other. Jeremy helped me get into powerlifting, which changed my life. He is a great man with a great legacy of love and leadership!

“ I met Jeremy at Radio to talk about his plans for opening Tru. I leaned so heavily into every word he shared. There was so much excitement and hope. I wanted to be a part of every plan he had. Morgan and Jeremy have a way of pulling you into their lives. I loved being a part of something special. He had a gift at making you feel a part of his family. Every ounce of energy I poured into Tru was for the vision he had shared and the plan he was so excited to achieve with us. The closer I got the more wrapped in love I was. His love of taking care of others, music, style, laughter, celebration, and making his circle feel joy will be the memories I'll keep with me. This loss is devastating and deep. Sending love to Morgan, Maia, and the entire family. Know that we're all here to support to be leaned on today and for the rest of time.

“ I first met Jeremy at Club Fitness. I started training with him as a client and despite him putting me through workouts that had me cursing him, we became friends as well. I'll always remember big smiles and greetings "SK!!!" every time I saw him.

I was grateful to have met Morgan through him as well. Even though I didn't see them as often in recent years, it's been incredible to watch and support as they broke out of their comfort zones to build successful business ventures together.

I was devastated to hear the news of Jeremy's passing, but I'm confident in saying I am a better person for having known him. My condolences to Morgan and family- sending all the love and prayers to you. I am so very sorry for your loss.

“ One of the first things I heard Morgan say about Jeremy was that he has helped her believe in herself again. After getting to know him as my boss and then friend I think we can all say the same thing- he made us all better and best hype man and leader out there. There are really no words of how much we will miss him and how my heart aches for Morgan- what I will miss most is seeing him and her together. My favorite power couple. They lit each other up and you could always feel the happiness and love they shared for each other. Jeremy- we love you we miss you and we promise to look out for your girls

“ Jeremy was always a great motivator and friend. He made my first couple of years in St Louis much more enjoyable! My best memory is when we went to a Dave Chappelle stand up and we were both crying from laughing so much.

Many prayers to the family.

“ Jeremy was a legacy maker. He invested in people. He invested in me. My time knowing him was brief, from 2012-216 as one of his personal trainers. His infectious smile always brightened people’s day. He challenged people to be a better version of themselves. He empowered people with compassion and gave them a reason to fight for something better. Thank you for believing in me. You changed my life by helping get out of my shell.

I love you bro! Thanks for the dumb nickname “Wittacules” lol I’ll wear it proudly.

My prayers and love goes out to Morgan and his family.

“ My heart breaks for Morgan and his family. Jeremy was a huge part of my life for 6yrs when I trained with him at the gym. He believed in me when I didn't even believe in myself. He taught me patience, hard work, and changed my life/health for the better. He was an amazing personal trainer, and an amazing guy!! Even when he moved to Austin, he always checked in on me. I'm deeply saddened and he will forever be missed. Sending all my love and prayers to Morgan and his family!

“ I loved Jeremy's zeal for life and his personable nature. You could feel that he truly cared about those around him. He was one of those guys that you would talk about to others and say, "He's good people." I'll miss him. He made such a strong impression on this Man U fan that I am not ashamed at all to exclaim "Go Gunners!"
