“ Forever in our hearts Aunt Mary will be miss. Though she gone away, we'll keep her near and dear. Your memories will keep you warm and comfort you through all the storms. Memories of the love that she shared, the way she loved and cared, forever in your hearts they'll stay. Memories own a special place in us always. But we know we'll see them once more. In heaven above, forevermore.

Mary was kind and patient. She always welcomed visitors, even when we would just "drop in." Teens especially loved her and she would hold court offering wise words with humor. Every time the students came for a work-day to the neighborhood, they would ask if they could visit with Miss Mary. It might have been for them to get out of work, but I tend to think it was because they felt comfortable with her. She made old age in their eyes--approachable. Although her body was failing her, her mind was sharp as was her wit. God has relocated her to a place where she can breath deeply, run without obstacles and smile without reservation. I for one am happy to know she will be waiting to greet me when I, too, am finished with living on this earth. Praise God for not the hope, but the reassurance of a resurrection for those who love the Lord! Linda Riedesel
