Ramona Gayle Wilson was born to Jewell Lee Fisher (deceased) and Calvin Norris

Greely (deceased) on May 14, 1962 in El Campo, Texas. Gayle proudly laid claim to the title of “Baby Girl” of the family. She graduated from Sidney Lanier High School in Austin, Texas in 1980. In 1984, she married Alfred Wilson, Jr., and a year later, they were blessed with the birth of their only child, Alfred Wilson, III.

Gayle accepted the Lord and was baptized at an early age. She was a member of Greater Love Baptist Church, under the leadership of Pastor Marlin R. Carter, and after his passing, Pastor Isaac Grant, Jr.. She thereafter joined Diakonos - A House of Servants, where she served faithfully until she earned her wings.

Gayle attended Wharton Jr College in Wharton, Texas, and Austin Community College in Austin, Texas.. She was employed for many years as a dietitian at St David’s Hospital in Austin, Texas. After the birth of her grandsons, Tre'vion Wilson and Terrell Wilson, and with the blessing and support of her devoted Husband, Alfred Wilson, Jr., she chose to stay at home and help raise and nurture them.

Gayle enjoyed being active in Church, the Society of Sisters, Bible Study Fellowship

(BSF), and was in Chaplain training as part of the Pneuma Ministry (Pastoral Care Team) at Diakonias. She enjoyed cooking and is reknown for her sweet potato pies. She was an entrepreneur of a jewelry business which she fondly named Jewells Bling Paradise in remembrance of her Mother, Jewell. Gayle was a purse and makeup connoisseur, owning enough purses and makeup to stock a department store. But her greatest joy came from raising her grandsons, Tre'vion and Terrell.

Gayle leaves to cherish her memories, her devoted husband, Alfred Wilson, Jr; her son, Alfred Wilson, III; her grandchildren Tre'vion Wilson and Terrell Wilson; her siblings Atty.
