“ You still live on in the effects of your and Maree's good works on others. Tom

“ I got to know Timothy through his dear and devoted and talented wife Maree in the Department of Classics at the University of Texas at Austin 2008-2011. I was so sad to learn just this morning of the passing of this good human being who worked so hard to do good for those who knew a lot of 'bad' in their lives. I remember talking about music and the human condition with Timothy and Maree. Michael Franti's "Oh My God," James Brown's "Like It Is, Like It Was," and Bob Dylan's "Lonesome Death of Hattie Carroll." And Maree's own experiences in Maryland. Timothy knew in his heart how music lifts and soothes all our souls. I hope he is among the heavenly choir now.

My deepest sympathies to Maree and her family on the loss of this good man.

Bishop Timothy & Maree N. Williams - December 01, 2015 at 03:28 PM

“ Dear Daddy,

We just want to thank you for being such an awesome father and commend you for a job well done. We never went one day in life without knowing you loved us abundantly and unconditionally. We never wanted for anything. While you worked, you kept us by your side and we appreciate you taking us along with you after we got out of school. You allowed your young children to follow your trail into church services, hospitals, street ministry, home bible studies, nursing homes, jails, prisons, soup kitchens, homeless shelters and other venues. While you were striving to save the lost at any cost and working in your calling, you did not leave us at home, but kept us with you, making sure to check our homework.

We are beyond proud of you! You taught us how to chase dreams and never give up when others say no. You taught us how to be respectful and patiently lean on God for understanding during hard times, how to love, how to be a blessing to others and what a great Father looks like. Most importantly, you, our father, taught us how to praise and magnify the Lord for the good and bad things in life.

We are going to miss daily conversations. The two of us calling just to hear your voice or just singing ole antiquity hymns and ‘play’ preach amongst each other. Oftentimes, we would just sit on the phone watching sports from a distance together. You believed in family and family unity. We love you Dad. Your spirit is so rich. You were able to touch so many people on this side; even in the hospital you led over 30 persons to the lord. Your presence lit a room and was so contagious. THEY DO NOT MAKE THEM LIKE YOU ANY MORE. Seems like you left us too soon. Only because of the love we share and your teachings about Jesus and his time table, we are able to be at peace. Since the day you were born, you were a fighter. Remember the Madelyn Murray O’Hair battle, LOL...you won the debate, daddy, and we’ll never forget how you also survived being lifted up in a tornado! Last but not least, we are going to miss you taking care of the arrangements for celebrating and making each of our birthdays on Christmas Eve, and the 1st day of summer, special by eating more ice cream than the guest. And daddy, daddy, your best friend and our dear mother: You can count on us to continue to take good care of her like you did. You fought vigorously to protect her until the end, and she made it! Now, it is time for you to rest. We know you are never too far away and will be with us at all times. If it ever seems too far, we know you are just on the road traveling, but this time it is with Jesus, at the Wheel. We will always love you!!!
